Clean-Up Starting Monday

Clean-up Month committeemen are expecting Andover property owners to spend a feverish week clearing out trash and grounds in anticipation of the free pick ups scheduled to begin Monday.

Every precinct is to be canvassed by trucks from the public works department in connection with the municipally sponsored clean-up and fix-up drive. Homeowners are to leave at their side any items they wish to be carted off. The town will remove anything that is not too heavy for two men to lift. Loose items are to be collected in disposable cans or containers and branches are to be bundled.

Pick-ups will be made on the following schedule: May 16, Monday, precincts three and four; May 17, Tuesday, precincts one and two; May 18, Wednesday, precincts five and six; May 19 and 20 will be for finishing off in any areas not completed on schedule.

Cold Hands, Warm Hearts

It is cold at Memorial Hall, but the librarians' hearts are just as warm as ever.

Librarian Miriam Putnam passes this word along to patrons who may be discouraged by the chilly temperatures recorded there since the heating system was disrupted by construction activity in the new wing.

The switch over from boiler to boiler was scheduled, logically, for spring. But spring has been a little late this year. As a result, librarians working in the reading rooms have become accustomed to cold feet, cold hands and two sweater days.

Rhoads, a Pennsylvanian, spent his retirement years in Andover and served the community in a number of ways. His last major contribution prior to his death in 1965 was as chairman for the first Founders' Day celebration, a banquet sponsored by the Andover Chamber of Commerce.

Tax Collector Christie, who is to be 70 this fall, will retire in September. He came to Town Hall in 1938 as an elected official and served a series of three year terms until, under the manager form of government, he was appointed to continue as the town's collector of taxes.

Pressured to reminisce about the years he has spent observing Andover from his corner office at Town Hall, the reticent tax man said this week that the changing times have had little effect on the routine of his office. The growth of the town has simply provided him with more of the same.

He has a thin file of the more vitriolic letters he has received over the years from irate taxpayers objecting to the unconstitutionality of the poll tax, the (Continued on Page Nine)

Building Study Asked By July 11

Selectman Philip K. Allen proposed Monday that a "small" committee be named to draft a five-year plan for construction of municipal buildings, but the board approved instead a 10-member study group.

Allen asked for a committee that would include Board Chairman William Stewart and one other selectman, Planning Chairman Harold King and one other from his board, the town manager and two members at large. He stipulated that the committee be asked to make written "recommendations" to the board not later

Letter Brings Retort

A member of the Andover Board of Selectmen took sharp exception Wednesday to a letter published in a Lawrence newspaper this week which charged that it has been the policy of selectmen in the past few years in naming members to governmental boards "to rush and push through appointments of 'friends' and 'political supporters'."

Selectman Philip K. Allen released to the press a copy of his letter answering what he described as "the unfortunate and baseless implications" contained in the

Girl Scout Camporee

To Draw Crowd Of 460

More than 460 Girl Scouts and Brownies are planning to attend a camporee and Play Day at Camp Eaton May 13 through May 14. The Andover Neighborhood Association, is sponsoring its first three-day event with Mrs. John Holmes as general chairman. On her planning committee for many scheduled activities are Mrs. James Hedrick, Mrs. Donald Caser, Mrs. Francis Diodati, Mrs. Kenneth Godin Sr., Mrs. Warren Oldaker and Mrs. Edward Reynolds.

Ten camping troops, supervised by 61 adult leaders, will be included in the group. Eight Brownie troops will have their Play Day May 14 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., with 145 Brownies and 21 adults participating.

Junior, Cadette and Senior troops have prepared a program with demonstrations of various scouting activities for Saturday afternoon, between 2 and 4 p.m. Parents and other visitors will be welcomed at the camp office and taken on tours with Girl Scout guides to view Scouting in action. Parking for visitors will be available at the Town Beach.

Each camping troop will gather around a campfire on Friday evening. Cadettes will present a special Campfire Program the following evening from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. On Sunday religious services will be conducted for Protestants at 9 a.m. and for Catholics at 9:30 a.m. Campers will leave for home at 2:30 p.m.

In the event of inclement weather on Saturday afternoon, open-house activities for the public will be canceled.

Any fulfillment is a bondage. It drives us to a higher fulfillment.

MEMORIAL DAY ARRANGEMENTS

The Andover Patriotic Holiday committee will meet at Legion Hall Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Members of local patriotic organizations are asked to meet with the committee to make plans for the annual May 30 Memorial Day observance.

Schedules for the day will be distributed at the meeting.

Roman Splendor

Twelve major gods and goddesses were arrayed in front of a mural of Mount Olympus for the Andover Junior High School Latin Club banquet which was served last week in a cafeteria transformed into a Roman atrium with flowers, benches and statuary.

Guests and members were entertained at a chicken dinner that began and ended with the traditional serving of eggs and apples, in this instance, stuffed eggs and apple dessert. For entertainment there was a "wine" mixing ceremony, a slave auction, a lively Latin play and a costume parade.

Appearing as gods and goddesses were Paul Russell, Jupiter; Carol Beaulieu, Juno; John O'Neal, Pluto; Donald Glines, Neptune; Denise Vulgaropolus, Venus; Diane Pratt, Vesta; Michael Wright, Apollo; Carla Wormwood, Diana; Mary Lou Ordzie, Minerva; Roy Perdue, Mercury; Richard Pelletier, Mars; and Vincent Dolan, Vulcan.

Odes to the gods were given by Steve Sullivan, Gary Smith, David Sagasar, Charles Willand and Douglas Koza.

Others on the program included Laurie Foster, club president, Roger Jenkins, Beth Rozen, Kenneth Stewart, Charles Willand, Carl Berger, Craig Thomas, Lois Grant, Diane Hayes, Greg Loosigian, Richard Hodgman, Sharon Moody, David Sagasar, William Stickland, Ray Hunt, Jill Markert, and Ted Haykal.

Vincent Pascucci, a Phillips Academy classics teacher, was the principle speaker.

Junior Classical League pins were awarded to Steve Sullivan, Sarah Pingree and Michael Wright for high scholarship; Ted Haykal, Michael Pawlick and Gary Tomlinson for outstanding effort. Costume awards were given as follows: most handsome, Denise Vulgaropolus, than July 11. Ultimate responsibility for the locating of buildings in question belongs to the selectmen.

The suggestion came at a time when the whole subject of how to build a series of municipal buildings is being freshly debated.

Some months ago the selectmen narrowed the choice of sites and a new town hall to town-owned land now used for the municipal parking lot, the newly acquired Shorten garage property on Pleasant Street and a portion of the school site on Shawshen Road. Architect Archibald MacLaren advised them to use the Shorten property.

More recently the MacLaren Building corner of Elm Square has been discussed. There have been renewed arguments about where to locate and whether or not to combine a new central fire station and a new police station, construct one or the other of them in conjunction with a town office building etc. Money for three projects has already been appropriated and the latest Town Meeting approved Stevens Street as a fire station location.

In a printed statement selectman Allen said: "The time has come, I as an individual selectman feel, for a short, concentrated and active analysis of the situation . . . in order that a plan for at least the next five years be promulgated and a direct attack made on this problem which has vexed us for so long."

The proposal was opposed by Selectman Sidney P. White. He first stated that he felt the Board of Selectmen was "perfectly capable of going forward" without further committee aid. He followed this, however, with the comment that he had no objection to sitting down with a committee so long as it included all five selectmen.

Upon Mr. White's motion, seconded by Robert Watters, the board voted 3-2 for an amendment which would put the full board on the suggested committee and exclude the town manager as an official member. Casting negative votes were Roger Collins and Mr. Allen.

Collins asked that it go into record that he opposed the amendment "primarily" because it excluded the manager from participation in the study and also concurred.

At this juncture, Selectman Watters said that he did not understand when he voted for the amendment that it excluded Manager Bowen and he put forth a motion adding the manager's name to the list. There were no dissenting votes.

Chairman Stewart said Wednesday he was not yet ready to announce the names of the two members at large, but that would "shortly." In the discussion Selectman White said he thought it might be well to have representatives from the Andover Chamber of Commerce and the Taxpayers Assn. sit with the committee. The decision was left to the chairman, however.

One reason experience is a good teacher is that she does not allow dropouts.

After a series of Run-offs Paul McIntyre's rocket won the first place ribbon as fastest in the pack. Paul was closely followed by Tom Appleton and Kenneth Elowe in second and third place.

Cubmaster Gaynor announced a pack trip to Pleasure Island on May 14, and a fishing derby at Harold Parker State Forest closing out the season's activities on June 5.

Fifty four boys entered the annual Pinewood Derby for Cub Scout Pack 75 at St. Augustine's Church, and awards were presented to the ten fastest cars. Through the courtesy of Western Electric, an electric timing device clocked the speed of each car, which was raced twice, and the average time of both races was the deciding factor.

First place winner was Scott Young, second Paul Connelly, third Greg Hanawalt and remaining awards were presented to: Grey Wynn, Steven Poleatowich, Robert Lucey, John Fox, James Tremblay, Steven Korba and Charles Galbiati.

An additional highlight of the evening was the appearance of Robert Watelet, amateur sports car driver, who spoke to the group and demonstrated two types of safety helmets drivers wear when racing. Each of the winners were given the opportunity to try on the helmets while being presented their awards.

The next meeting of Pack 75 will be held on May 27, at 7 p.m. at St. Augustine's School hall.

14,000 jobs and the unemployment ratio of 4.5% was the lowest of any March in nine years. The gain of 14,000 jobs in March in nonfarm employment brought the total up to 2,044,000. This meant an increase of 78,900 above March of 1965 and was the largest year-to-year gain since the Korean War.

At their annual spring meeting, trustees of Phillips Academy voted a $4 million budget for the next school year. It is the highest in history and represents an increase of $2.5 million since 1948.

The House of Representatives voted earlier this month to restore the funds needed to continue the school milk and school lunch programs at their present levels. The funds were included in the Department of Agriculture Appropriations measure for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1966. A proposed cut of $82 million in the school milk program would have eliminated the supplemental milk for about 80 per cent of the children now receiving it. The lunch program budget was to have been cut by $19 million.

The junior class at Merrimack College has donated 28 trees to the North Andover college for beautification of the campus.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and Fifth District Congressman F. Bradford Morse were delegates last week to the second Anglo-American Parliamentary Conference held at Ditchley Park, England. The conference discussed the problems and needs of African nations compared them with situations encountered by developing Latin American countries.

An unidentified alumni of Andover High School, Class of '37, has given the school $25 to be awarded as a scholarship in the name of a retired teacher. Selection of the winner will be left to school officials.

CALLAGHAN RETIRED

Lt. Col. Eugene F. Callaghan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene F. Callaghan, 36 Kirkland Dr., retired last month after nearly 22 years of military service.

He was, at the time of his retirement, director of an intratheater transport system program at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio.

Sanborn PTA Sale May 14

The PTA of Sanborn School is sponsoring an auction Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the school on Lovejoy Rd.

According to Mrs. John Petty, chairman, the auction will be held rain or shine. She has planned for professional auctioneer, Bill Lawton, from North Andover, to hold the affair on the school grounds, but in case of rain, he will move indoors.

Mrs. Petty and her committee have collected a large assortment of items for the auction from PTA members. These include furniture, small appliances, antiques, dishes, bric-a-brac, children's items and garden equipment. In addition, many local businesses have donated numerous new items such as perfume, purses, paint, luncheon for two, clothing, shrubs, stock in a mutual fund, and a used car.

To complete the day there will be refreshments, chaired by Mrs. Salvatore Zappala and Mrs. Edward Powers, and "grabs" for the children.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spires, ways and means chairmen for the PTA have announced that proceeds from the auction will go for playground equipment at the school.

EYE OPENERS

When eyes are irritated by smog, dust, wind, or other simple irritants, try the new eye lubricants which offer immediate soothing relief.

For mild redness accompanying simple eye irritation, the so-called medicated "artificial tears" reduce the embarrassing redness, soothe the irritation, and leave your eyes looking fresh and bright.

Try them also the morning after a late night. They're real eye openers. Ask us about them. We have a complete stock.

The newly organized Andover Boots & Saddles 4-H Horse Club will sponsor two performances of the Sells & Gray Circus in Ballardvale Center on Sunday, May 29. The three-ring performances are scheduled for 2:30 and 5 p.m. The club is sponsoring the circus in order to help finance summer camp for members, a fall horse show and the purchase of club uniforms, etc.

Members of the 4-H organization will be out next week selling advance tickets for regular and reserved seats for the two performances; the club reports it will receive 50% for all advance ticket sales. The group is planning also to have short exhibitions on Saturday, June 25 during the Sidewalk Bazaar, including pony, horse, and buggy rides for the public.

The horse club is open to everyone between the ages of nine and 19 who owns or has access to a horse or pony. Meetings are held every other Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 p.m. at Andover Recreation Park, Ponds Pond. The next meeting will be held May 18. Persons interested in the club may attend. Further information regarding the 4-H Club and its activities, may be had from Miss Joan Miller, 7 Rattlesnake Hill Rd., or Leslie Bartow, Andover recreation director.

Christie admits that at times he has been accused of "gross negligence" and of having an "utter disregard for the tax laws", but he holds no grudges. Invariably the attackers are simply ill informed about tax regulations, he explains.

Christie became tax collector in Andover partly because of his determination to escape from commuting to Boston. As a teenager, he was enrolled in Phillips Academy but because of illness he had to give it up.

His first full time job was with the Merchants National Bank of Boston where he went to work in 1917 in the analysis department. To avoid commuting, he joined American Woolen Co. in 1923 and settled down in the wool re-

Christie has been in office to the elimination of the poll tax, but the only major change in his work came just a few years ago when town went to use of an addressograph and the tax department went to keeping records by number.

Prior to that, each taxpayer's name was laboriously handwritten on heavy ledgers. Christie's records are still hand transcribed and the use of tax statement numbers has shortened the operation.

After Sept. 22 he will devote his time to his hobbies - the Andover Male Choir (he is a charter member), his garden and a variety of spectator sports.

Christie has been active in the community as a founder and member of the Andover Boosters Club and during World War II as head of the Andover Servicemen's Club, a citizens' organization which sent messages and packages to Andover fighting men.

Others Recognized

Along with Christie, the town honored other long-term employees and a long list of volunteer workers Friday at the public program and reception held at Central School.

A Natural

The selection of Tax Collector James P. Christie, an Andover native, as the town's first Employee of the Year was a natural.

The fact that Collector Christie will retire this year, after 28 years of service to the community, gave him the edge as a sentimental favorite. The fact that he is widely known and admired makes him a popular choice. And his long and outstanding record qualifies him as a worthy recipient of the new title.

Andover has done a lot of growing in the quarter of a century that Jim Christie has been at Town Hall. The population has more than doubled. But there has been growth of another sort as well. Perhaps it should be considered symbolic that the selectmen chose to establish the first award for a municipal employee in this town's 320 year history as a memorial to a man who came to Andover as a senior citizen and spent his last years demonstrating in a variety of ways that there are outlanders who can grow to care as much for the welfare of this community as any native son. The late William W. Rhoads, a Pennsylvanian, translated his affection for Andover into action in her behalf; one of his final services was organization of the banquet meeting that was held for town employees in observance of the First Founders' Day Celebration here in May of 1965.

Andover will continue to prosper so long as she inspires the loyalty of such men.

Further Proof

Last year's School Committee majority was castigated prior to Town Meeting for having eliminated the possibility of adequate pay raises for school administrators with their elimination of ratio as a consideration in the establishing of pays for the system's key people. The move was a backhanded approach to forcing tighter evaluation of administrative personnel.

Funds have been found, nevertheless, for across the board increases, permitting the reversal of the previous committee's 3-2 vote in opposition to an automatic relationship between the salaries of principals, department heads etc. and the teachers' scale. At the time the TOWNSMAN joined with others to criticize the "committee's use of force to achieve a desirable end."

The newspaper took this position because the superintendent of schools indicated in discussions that he agreed in principle with the committee majority that it was — in his words — "unprofessional" to use a ratio rule-of-thumb as a basis for administrative pays. Though he said he disapproved tampering with the budget before a new approach could be established, he did state he would favor the developing of another system.

But what was approved last week, this time by a reshuffled committee, was a return to ratio as recommended by the superintendent. The only departure from the old approach was the recommendation of larger increases for two principals whose responsibilities are, for the time being, enlarged because of swollen enrollments. No one was denied an increase.

Perhaps it has been proved in the interim that the old way is after all the best way.

Whatever else can be concluded, this whole exercise stands as further proof (for any who need it) that it will take more than an act of the Legislature to divorce school committees from town politics.

Anglers' Delight

Because the Andover Sportsmen's Club is conservative about tooting its own horn, the TOWNSMAN wants to brag for it about the fishing derby it runs annually for this community's juvenile anglers.

With a minimum of fanfare the club has, for 16 years, been absorbing the cost of and responsibility for a day-long fishing competition held each spring at Hussey's Pond on Poor Street. The club stocks the pond with enough trout to keep the contest lively and its members are on duty from early morning to evening registering fishermen and keeping a log on the catch. They come in handy also for rounding up extra hooks and bait, supervising the action, hauling lines out of trees etc.

The club deserves applause for sponsoring a program that provides open air pleasure for so many Andover youngsters.

No one is completely useless — you can always serve as a bad example.

A Switch

Andover has done considerable complaining about McDonald's.

Now McDonald's is doing some complaining about Andover. That is a switch.

Regardless of whether or not investigation proves that the young people who are interfering with business at the hamburger stand are from Andover or elsewhere, it is a black mark on this community that officials from a company which, by its own admission, operates drive-ins in some pretty tough neighborhoods can say that they have more trouble with young people in Andover than anywhere else in their territory.

We agree with McDonald's and with municipal officials that the company must assume the chief responsibility for the orderly operation of the Drive-in's business. But we believe, also, that the town should cooperate with merchants who do business within our boundaries to see that both their interests and those of the community are protected.

We don't have to agree with McDonald's taste in architecture, but we do have to respect their right to sell hamburgers in our town without harassment.

What Our Readers Say

Exception Noted

To the Editor of the Townsman: I am writing to take exception to your editorial of April 28 in which you state that it is "ridiculous" for the Board of Selectmen to hold up in approval of appointments recommended by the Town Manager. I am very pleased to see the Board considering these recommendations carefully.

It appears that Town Managers are usually appointed from the outside the community and I question, never mind how brilliant the Town Manager is, how he can possibly know, when he arrives cold in the community, what persons are best suited for appointments on various committees.

Personally, I would like to see this particular part of our Charter changed so that fewer appointments to committees would be made by the Town Manager and more by the Selectmen. Ordinarily, the Board would be made up of men (or women) who had lived in the community long enough to have some idea of the qualifications of various citizens. In the meantime, I hope the Board will continue to weigh approval carefully.

Certainly, at the present moment, with the Selectman who is ill being reported as having some question about at least one of the persons recommended, it would seem to me to be a disservice to the ill selectman as well as to the citizens of the Town to go ahead before the whole matter can be aired in full before the complete Board. (Miss) Gladys A. Hill, 4 Marion Ave.

Editor's Note: The TOWNSMAN did say in its April 28 issue that it is "ridiculous" for the Board of Selectmen to delay and delay in acting on the town manager's appointments for 1966. We did not propose that appointments be given anything less than careful consideration, only that consideration be prompt.

The Challenge

To the Editor of the Townsman: If you trust this reader's writing arm, words however inept, are apt to flow.

Especially on those who believe that this community has the innate capacity to exceed itself is incumbent, on this occasion, to accentuate the positive because, were there no solid foundation of civic virtue to build upon, to lament the negative would be an exercise in futility.

So, I gladly contribute this homily on our communal attributes. However trivial some item may seem, all are symptomatic of the character of our townspeople at its civic best.

The heartwarming greeting with which a class of students is welcomed to town meeting.

The unanimity with which non-voters are admitted to town meeting.

The deference with which proponents of unpopular views are heard at town meeting.

The dignity with which candidates for public office allude to their competitors.

The devotion with which so many public-spirited citizens give so much time to public service without pay.

The integrity with which public officials perform their public duties: always human but never base.

The graciousness with which minority groups are accepted, yet each individual on his own merits.

The generosity with which our citizens open their views and purses to every deserving cause.

The civic conscience with which a veteran publicly condemns a public handout to veterans.

The pride with which our citizens manicure their living areas and their final resting places.

The patience with which a man stoops to help a neighbor's four-year-old hold a bat.

The ecumenical spirit with which many divergent religious groups receive one another.

If a community can be no less than the composite character of its inhabitants, could it not also be true that the civic potential of this community for civilized living is much greater than the sum of its parts? Therein may lie the real challenge to a community's character.

A Complaint

To the Editor of the Townsman: It was gratifying to me to read your picture-article on "It Ought To Go." More power to you! (April 28)

I would like to enter my complaint on the eyesore on Red Spring Road. Half way between the Horn Bridge and Moraine Street is another ramshackle building, junk and debris scattered over a large area.

I sincerely hope something could be done about getting it cleaned up. Mrs. Alida W. Hanscom, 15 Moraine St.

Belated Praise

To the Editor of the Townsman: Because I have been temporarily out of town on the west coast, I was unable to participate in your "Accentuating the Positive" program. However, I trust you may accept this belated contribution.

As a former chairman of the Town Land Acquisition Committee, I have been keenly aware of the urgent necessity to secure school sites. I am, therefore, grateful to Mr. Bowen for his energetic action in moving to get the money and authorization at our recent Town Meeting for obtaining four parcels of land for school sites, and to our Selectmen for backing Mr. Bowen in his efforts.

Furthermore, as one who worked for the establishment of a Town Conservation Commission, I am gratified to note, that, after several years spent in finding itself and acquainting itself with its duties, our Commission has now become

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago — May, 1891

Samuel M. Jones, our well known milk dealer, was married Tuesday night to Mrs. Annie Billington who has been housekeeper at his home. The ceremony was performed at the parsonage by Rev. F. A. Wilson of Free Church.

C. A. Hardy of St. Johns, N. B., has recently purchased the Bulley property near the church in West Parish. Mr. Hardy has been a successful brush manufacturer, and will commence soon the manufacture of all kinds of brushes at his new home. Power will be placed in the small shop connected with the property, and we can hope to see a large industry develop from a small beginning.

A bunch of flowers from the Florida home of Thomas Howell makes us think of a warm, pleasant climate somewhere, if we can't have it here.

The Town Hall presented an animated appearance Tuesday evening when the Pynchard Free School Cadets held their first annual prize drill.

50 Years Ago — May, 1916
Fred Swanton, superintendent of the Town Farm is erecting a new house on recently acquired Indian Maple Avenue.

Walter Thomas is ill at his home on Main Street with diphtheria.

One of the worst fires that have visited Andover in the past few years occurred on Thursday morning in the Osgood District. The flames laying waste to considerable property owned by Mrs. John Shaw and Mrs. Honora Hughes of 143 Cross St., Somerville.

The Free Church has been having a lot of good progress in the last year... and this very week marks two important anniversaries, the seventieth of the church last Sunday and the tenth anniversary of the Men's Club on Tuesday.

25 Years Ago — May, 1941
A young man now teaching physics and chemistry at Moses Brown School in Providence was given quite an important pair of shoes to fill by the Andover School Committee Tuesday evening. They were the shoes, filled for some 30 years by Gene Lovely who was recently elevated to the principalship of Pynchard, Anton Kluge should be able to fill those shoes.

Mrs. Hugh McLaughlin was this afternoon elected president of the Helping Hand Society of the Free Church, succeeding Mrs. Edmond Dunwoody. Other officers elected were Mrs. George Nicoll, recording secretary and Mrs. Alex MacKenzie, treasurer.

Mrs. Alfred Bissett and daughters have returned to their home in Milwaukee, Wis., after visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell of Abbott Street.

10 Years Ago — May, 1956
Voters probably will have to wait until at least March, 1957, to decide the town manager question. Rep. Frank S. Giles Jr. pessimistically reported this week the chances "are not too good" of getting the proposal on the November ballot.

A historic, record-shattering tax rate of $60 has been announced by the assessors-selectmen. It is $7 higher than the 1955 rate per thousand of $53.

An area off Elm Street for a new school was on last night's agenda of the planning board as it met in the town hall.

Margaret Warshaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thayer Warshaw of Carisbrooke St., was the guest of honor Saturday at a luncheon party held at a restaurant in Lynnfield in honor of her ninth birthday. Mrs. and Mrs. Max Warshaw, Margaret's grandparents were the hosts and hostess.

Stafford Lindsay was re-elected president of the Andover Town Center at the annual meeting May 2.

Clifford E. Marshall was elected president of the Andover Village Improvement Society at its recent annual meeting.

Mrs. George E. Goodrich, 4 Joyce Ter., was elected recording secretary of the Dartmouth Women's Club Inc., at the club's annual meeting held at the Brookline Motor Hotel, Brookline, line.

GOP Teens Will Meet

The Greater Lawrence Teenage Republican Club will meet Sunday, May 15 at 2:30 p.m. at Goelet Library, Brooks School, North Andover.

William Saltonstall, son of Sen. Leverett Saltonstall and his administrative aid, will address members of both the GL club and the Brooks School GOP organization. His topic will be "Youth's Responsibilities in Politics". Interested teenagers and young Republicans are invited to attend.

Four members of the Greater Lawrence organization attended the recent Massachusetts Young Republican Convention in Boston to participate in such business as raising the age limit for Young Republican membership from 35 to 40.

During the convention delegates heard addresses by announced candidates for state attorney general and were guests for a lasagna dinner prepared by Mrs. John A. Volpe, Mrs. Elliot Richardson and Mrs. Edward Brooke, the wives of the governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general respectively.

Michigan Organist Appearing

Alexander Boggs Ryan, organist, will play the Walcher organ at Methuen Memorial Music Hall on Wednesday, May 18 at 8:30 p.m.

This is the second organ program of the season which marks the 20th anniversary year of the association formed 20 years ago to perpetuate the Hall and instrument as a cultural and musical center. These concerts are open to the public, admission free to Hall Sustaining Members.

Ryan is chairman of the organ department at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo. His doctorate in musical arts, received at University of Michigan included, study with Robert Noehren and Marilyn Mason.

Included with foreign study was his European debut, coached by Marcel Dupre.

Dr. Ryan is an accomplished pianist and coach. Among selections on the May 18 program will be: Passacaglia and Fugue in C Minor BWV 582 - Johann Sebastian Bach; Two Pieces for Organ (MSS)* - Chorale Prelude on In Dulci Jubilo, 1965 - Festival Intrada, 1966 - Patrick H. Colley; and Sonata in E Minor (MSS) - Herbert Nanney (II, Adagio molto espressivo e cantabile - 1944).

On June 8 Gerre Hancock of Cincinnati, Ohio, will play at Methuen for the 3rd organ concert of the season.

very active, and is rendering valuable service to the Town on many fronts.

Finally, as one greatly interested in conservation, I find it most heartening to observe the recently aroused and active appreciation of the value of conserving our marsh lands, stream banks, woodlands and open spaces, for their water retention value, for wildlife preservation, and for providing green areas and outdoor recreational opportunity. This growing awareness is most commendable in our public officials and in our citizenry in general.

And we, in the Andover Village Improvement Society (AVIS), on our part, are working to satisfy these needs by obtaining further appropriate land acquisitions, by gift or by purchase, as opportunity offers; as well as by making our present land holdings, which are all open to the public, fully available to scout groups as well as to our individual citizens, by installing signs, laying out trails and conducting tours through our reservations. We invite everyone to join us in all these worth-while activities.

Boat Crackdown Is Forthcoming

State Motorboat Director Wilton Vaughn today said that enforcement agents are prepared to crackdown this season on all boaters who continue to ignore the state's boat registration law.

"Boaters now have had six years to become familiar with the laws on registration and there is no further reason why violations in this category should continue to exist," he said.

"Just as the Registry of Motor Vehicles takes court action against illegal operation of motor vehicles, so will be the State Division of Motorboats take similar court action against those found in violation of the state boating laws," he said.

According to the Director, Massachusetts law requires registration of all boats propelled by motors of five or more horsepower. In addition, registration numbers must be properly displayed on the boat on both sides of the bow.

Sailboats, canoes, and any other watercraft using five or more horsepower motors as a means of auxiliary propulsion are included in the requirements for boat registration, Vaughn said.

AVIS Tour On Saturday

The third and final tour in a series arranged by AVIS to acquaint townspeople with conservation lands open to the public will be held Saturday.

At 10:30 a.m. interested persons may meet at West Parish Church with Mrs. Waters Kellogg and Wolf Berthold for a hike through Deer Jump Reservation, a strip of land which runs along the Merrimack in the area of the town's new Fish Brook Dam.

Organizers of the tour warn that this will be a fairly strenuous hike and that persons planning to join in should allow 4-5 hours for the round trip and bring a picnic lunch.

For people interested in a shorter trip, provisions will be made for a two-hour hike. Families with small children may want to try this arrangement.

The Andover Village Improvement Society is a non-profit conservation organization which holds title to a number of green areas in town which it provides to the community for the enjoyment of the general public.

Postal Savers Urged To Cash Certificates

Postmaster Francis J. Mooney today urged depositors with postal savings certificates to withdraw their accounts from Post Offices as soon as possible or as soon as the anniversary dates on their certificates are reached.

The Postal Savings System was abolished March 27, 1966, with the signing of Public Law 89-377 by President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Postmaster Mooney pointed out that as of April 28, 1966, no deposits can be accepted and no new accounts can be opened. He said that interest will end on the anniversary date of each certificate.

The postmaster said that for convenience all certificates held by a depositor may be cashed at the same time and interest will be paid for each full month they have been outstanding beyond three months from the interest date.

The Postal Savings System was established January 1, 1911, to get

Barnard Essayists Named

David Coplan, a senior at Andover High School, was the winner of the recent 67th Barnard Essay Contest.

This competition has been annually since 1889 when Barnard left a trust fund to provide prizes for contestants.

Seniors Kathleen Muller and Jeanne Ellis were second and third prize winners in the 1966 contest. Other finalists were Linda C. Moore, Deborah Godin, Judith K. and Christine Prendergast.

Judging were Mrs. John P. Nowicki, a former English teacher, Edmund Wesolowski of AvcoCo and Miss Isabelle Dobie, principal of West School.

The contest was under the direction of Miss Beatrice L. Stevens, head of the English department. She was assisted by members of her staff, Coaches were Mr. Hattie W. Hannigan, Mrs. Sandra Hawkes, Miss Louise Hay Charles Mourikas, and Miss Stevens.

L.L. Dance Next Week

The annual Andover Little League dance for all parents and League players and their friends will be held Friday, May 20, at the Andover Country Club. The popular local orchestra will play for dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Proceeds from this "get acquainted" affair will be used to buy equipment for the more than 30 teams playing in the local league this season. It is the principal money-making effort of the team supporters.

Advance reservations can be made by check to Mrs. Joseph Medici, 13 Pinecrest Rd. Tickets may also be obtained at the door. Little Leaguers' parents are urged to donate trading stamps with which the committee will obtain gifts to be raffled at the dance. Persons who wish to give stamps may contact Mrs. Medici.

School Menu

Monday — American chop suey, wax beans, Italian bread and butter, fruit hermit bars and milk.

Tuesday — Braised beef with vegetables, mashed potatoes, bread and butter or peanut butter, peach upsidedown cake and milk.

Wednesday — High and juicy high — baked stuffed pork chops, whipped potatoes, brown gravy, buttered green beans, dinner rolls, applesauce and milk. Elementary students will be dismissed at noon.

Thursday — Baked sliced ham, potato puffs, ketchup, buttered peas and carrots, bread and butter, ice cream bar and milk.

Friday — Fruit juice, tuna salad, roll, potato chips, fresh Waldorf salad, scooter pie and milk.

Landscape Course Set

For better education of garden club members, judges and home owners, Course IV, of a series of two-day courses in Landscape Design will be offered to the public by the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, Inc., on Monday, May 16 and Tuesday, May 17 at the Waltham Field Station, 240 Beaver St., Waltham.

An examination for federated garden club members taking the course for credit will be held on Wednesday, May 18 at 9 a.m.

The lectures have been planned to cover many phases of landscape design. On Monday, the following topics will be presented: "Redesign of Areas", "Subdivision and Land Development", "Herbaceous Material and Maintenance", "Conservation", "Standards for Evaluating Landscape Design", and "Evaluating Design". Students will take field trips by bus on Tuesday morning for their lectures on "Evaluating Domestic and Public Design". The afternoon session will consist of a discussion in addition to a question and answer period.

Speakers will include Paul Morrice of Newton and Benjamin Gary Jr., of Weston, members of the firm of Morrice & Gary of Cambridge both are landscape architects, authors, and have served as instructors at the Harvard Graduate School of Design; Charles E. Roth, director of education at the Massachusetts Audubon Society in Lincoln; Paul F. Babula of West Roxbury, a research assistant in nursery culture as well as an extension horticulturist on home horticulture, and Robert L. Kent Jr., of Amherst, assistant professor of landscape architecture at the University of Massachusetts.

Anyone is welcome to attend the course. Mrs. Chester Burr, Sandwich, Mass. 02563 is in charge of registration.

Committee for the course includes Mrs. Edwin L. Bramley of Andover, president of the federation; and Mrs. Byron R. Cleveland, also of Andover.

Service Club Dinner Tonight

The Andover Service Club will hold its annual business meeting at the Parker House tonight. Social hour at 5:30 p.m. will precede the dinner.

Following the election of new officers, plans will be discussed for the group's annual "Ladies Night", scheduled for Saturday, May 21, at the Rolling Green Motor Inn. The committee has requested that members make early reservations for this event which will include dinner, entertainment and dancing.

The local club will conclude its season's activities with a picnic which will be held on the grounds of the Lowell Street Motor Inn.

At The Library

Littlest Listeners

With the meeting of the Red Yarns this morning, the season for programs for the four and five year olds concludes until next fall. Next fall four groups will start a new season. If you have a boy or girl in the age-bracket and wish to enroll him for one of the library groups, you may get in touch with Miss Elizabeth Russell in the Children's room at the main library (Telephone, 475-0314) or with Mrs. Martha MacCausland at the Ballardvale branch (Telephone 475-0521).

Programs for Littlest Listeners feature stories, and perhaps singing, games or a film strip. They learn to feel at home in a library and become acquainted with some of the wonderful children's books for their age. Books may be either new or selected from the legends and other classics of childhood.

Great Books

The final gathering for the current year of the Great Books discussion group that has been meeting at the library took place Tuesday evening. This concludes the fourteenth year of Great Books programs under the joint leadership of Miss Helen Stearns, assistant leader and Robert Rockwell, leader. While the membership of the group has not been the same each year, many members have come year after year. There were 20 active participants over the 1965-66 season.

The group will reform in the fall. However, the readings for the coming year may be ordered now by calling the library. If you would like a set of the selections for the fourth year's discussions, please place your request soon. A set of readings consists of paperbacks in an attractive book box. Where only part of a long work is to be considered, the proper excerpt is included in the Great Books package.

LETTER

Mrs. Stanton, who is employed by Selectman Sidney P. White, said Mrs. Stanton, who is secretary to Selectman Sidney P. White, said in criticizing previous boards of selectmen: "Experience was never given a consideration, much less a thought. As a result, many have been, and still are on committees and boards of which they have no right to be on."

Mrs. Stanton's letter was critical also of the town manager for what she termed "trying to ram the Merrimack down our throats."

Allen, who has been on the board since the inception of the manager plan, said that he was replying to the charges not only in his own defense, but in defense of the town manager and those "dedicated and able citizens who over the past few years have been appointed to various boards and committees and who are serving them with distinction and with the satisfaction of doing a public service their only compensation."

His response continued: "To say, as Mrs. Stanton does, that the appointments of these people have been 'rushed and pushed through', and that 'many have been and still are on committees and boards of which they have no right to be on (sic)' is to impugn the motives of the Town Manager and the Board of Selectmen as then constituted, as well as to vilify and cast suspicion upon innocent and well-qualified citizens of Andover."

"These implications I resent deeply both personally and as an elected official of the Town of Andover. Especially am I resentful since I bear with others the complete responsibility for the appointment of the Town Manager (a brilliant hard-working administrator who has ably and faithfully performed his difficult task) as well as in the confirming of his appointments which were made only after the most careful consideration."

"I am sure that the people of Andover will not judge the performance of the Town Manager on the basis of Mrs. Stanton's letter; I leave that judgment to those who have attended the last three town meetings."

Be sure you are right - then turn and take another look.

Tennis Course In Second Year

The Johnson-Rich Junior Tennis Development Program will begin its second season in Andover June 27.

The program is held at Abbot Academy courts under the leadership of Mrs. Amy Johnson and Mrs. Helen Rich. Dennis Gosselin son of Armand Gosselin tennis coach at Merrimack College, will assist with the coaching. Gosselin is an active and outstanding junior player in the Greater Lawrence area.

The program is a non-profit organization which benefits the Youth Tennis Foundation of New England. It is open to boys and girls age 8 - 15 from Greater Lawrence.

For further information contact Mrs. Rich, 10 Howell Dr.

Healing Is Book Topic

A firsthand report on the impact of spiritual healing on the lives of men and women in many parts of the world has just been published in connection with the Centennial of Christian Science.

Issued as a contribution to the revived interest in spiritual healing among many of the traditional churches, the book, called "A Century of Christian Science Healing," draws on thousands of published and tape-recorded testimonies, volunteered and verified by witnesses, which have become part of Church records.

The book was prepared by The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and published by The Christian Science Publishing Society, which also publishes the denomination's international daily newspaper, The Christian Science Monitor.

PRESCHOOLERS TOUR MUSEUM

Free Christian Church of Christ Preschoolers recently visited the Science Museum, Boston. They were taken on a tour specially designed for young children.

Power Out On Sunday

Power was disrupted on River Road early Sunday when a car driven by Kenneth Farnham, 36 Stafford St., Lawrence, crashed into a power pole at 3:04 a.m.

A passing motorist took Farnham to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment of minor injuries. Police say the motorist said he fell asleep at the wheel.

Later the same morning, about 10:30 a.m., a vehicle driven by Paul A. Curtis of Londonderry, N. H., swerved from the highway on Dacom Road and hit a tree. This accident was attributed to a mechanical failure in the steering gear. Both the driver and Philip A. Curtis, his brother, were treated for lacerations.

On Monday police were notified of a three car accident at the intersection of High and Haverhill Sts. The cars of Anna C. Metrokin, 355 River Rd., and Valmost H. Stone of North Chelmsford collided, causing the Metrokin auto to strike a Cross Coal Co. truck driven by Arthur L. Fournier. There were no injuries.

Local Boy Receives Scholarship

Reynolds Monach of 4 Applecrest Rd., a student at St. Augustine's School, was named Massachusetts Junior Science Champion during the finals of a Boston TV Station's 11-week "Science Countdown 1966" series, Saturday, May 7.

The finals marked the culmination of a four-month competition involving some 63,000 students in nearly 500 public, private and parochial schools in the Commonwealth. The series, now in its eighth year, is jointly sponsored by WBZ-TV, the Group W (Westinghouse Broadcasting Co.) Station in Boston, and Lowell Technological Institute.

In winning the state junior scientist title, young Monach received the top award of a one-year scholarship to Lowell Technological Institute, a Panasonic tape recorder, and a set of Allyn and Bacon science books.

Monach is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ellis Monach, 4 Applecrest Rd.

League Year Ends May 19

The annual meeting of the League of Women Voters of Andover will be held Thursday, May 19, at 12 noon at the Log Cabin, Phillips Academy.

With Mrs. Jerald Cornwell, president, presiding, there will be election of officers, a report of the national convention held this month in Denver and voting on the local program for the coming year. Coffee and dessert will be served. Mrs. Norman Viehmann is to be called for reservations.

Mrs. Peluso Given Gavel

The Greater Lawrence Barbers' Ladies Auxiliary will meet May 18 at 7:30 p.m. at the Lawrence Co-Operative Bank, Lawrence. Joseph Roberts, president of the Journeymen Barbers, will present a gavel to Mrs. Peter Peluso, president of the new organization which met first on March 23. Mrs. Peluso will follow.

Mrs. Frank Santucci of Andover is chairman of the group's "shine" committee and Mrs. Thomas Solomon of Methuen is handling publicity.

David Cutlitz Joins Valor Inc.

David Cutlitz, 17 Theodore Ave., has been appointed vice president in charge of manufacturing at Valor Manufacturing Co., Inc., Bedford.

Cutlitz, who was formerly vice president of Lady Barry, a division of Shutter Industries, Lawrence, fills a new post. He will be in charge of product engineering and quality control for Valor's outerwear division.

BEACON STREET BOYS "MOTHER" Pintail ducklings. Robert, Brian, Thomas and Edward Flannery (left to right), sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Flannery, 8 Beacon St. last week turned over five ducklings to the State Conservation Commission as the final chapter in an unusual nature story. The boys found seven pintail eggs in a swamp off Virginia Road, and hatched six in a homemade incubator. They lost just one bird. Conservationists report it is rare that wild birds are hatched successfully in captivity. (Cole)

Teens Disrupt Business At Hamburger Drive-In

Officials for McDonald's hamburger drive-ins complained here last week that the crowds of teenagers which collect in the parking lot at their Main Street stand several nights a week tend to discourage potential customers.

Spokesmen for the national chain told members of the Board of Selectmen and Police Chief David Nicoll that they have more trouble with uncooperative teenagers at the Andover stand than at any other they operate in the New England area. They asked for suggestions and help in controlling what they described as a potentially dangerous situation.

In a conference session, district and area representatives for McDonald's said they were concerned not only about the effect the loitering youths have on business at the drive-in but interested also in avoiding real trouble.

They said the management has already tried the routine methods of getting the offenders to move along without success. Some will stay for hours without buying anything, others will buy just enough to qualify them as customers, others will leave by one exit and enter by the other when asked to leave, they reported.

The company has resorted recently to asking police to clear the lot of all patrons in order to eliminate the nuisance crowd. Both the police chief and the management said that they do not approve of this technique, however, because it is offensive to customers not involved in the trouble making.

Plans were formulated with Chief Nicoll for seven-nights-a-week policing of the grounds during business hours as part of an "education program" aimed at discouraging long-term youth gatherings at McDonald's. Two officers will be on duty on peak nights. Officials for the company said night time police protection has been provided there on numerous occasions before with varying results but agreed that it will be worth the expense of extensive round-the-week policing if it brings results. McDonald's will pay off-duty officers for the night patrolling.

Also being considered is direct communication with the owners of motor vehicles driven by those who are perpetual loiterers. No one involved in the discussion had any clear idea of what percentage of the offending teenagers are from Andover. Chief Nicoll said he would be of the opinion that the majority would be from elsewhere, but that this is something that will be checked into.

Spokesmen for McDonald's agreed with municipal officials that the major responsibility for the orderly conduct of business is theirs, but said they had reached the point of needing advice and help.

The district manager said his company is vitally interested in teenage business, but that they fear young people who spend the evening in the parking lot buying little, if anything, not only intimidate adult consumers but other teenagers as well.

Pointing out that the bulk of McDonald's business is family business, the manager said that there is a need in any community for a 15 cent hamburger. He made this statement in response to a reminder from one local official that there had been considerable opposition to construction of a McDonald's drive-in in Andover.
